Orb Phone, the redesign.

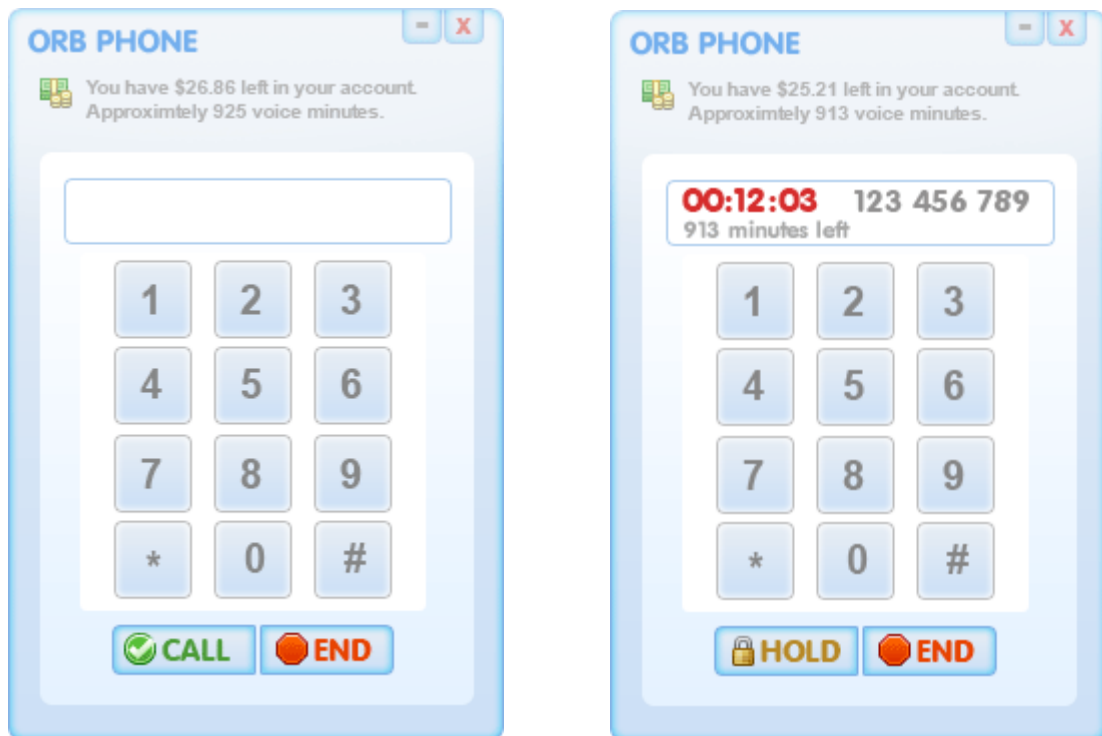

Orb Phone is a voip client with a very simple and straight to the point, user interface.

Clean design, easy on eyes, no clutter. But what about the usability factor of this design?

The redesign

After tests, redesign and further tests, here is the RichMint version of the UI.

- Size reduced by 50%, saving screen real estate and workspace.
- Compact and packed elements on the interface.
- Buttons now have better contrast, colours and icons of better context.

Jaxtr make-over (fictional)

Jaxtr (jaxtr.com) is a very popular web-based voip service. The actual app is a flash applet that is embedded into webpages. Here is a screenshot of its original ui.
